Google Scholar

- Click "ENABLE" to Enable your Scholar library

The screenshot shows the 'Scholar Library' section with a 'Getting Started' guide. The guide instructs users to click 'Save' to add articles to their library and to click 'My library' to view them. It also mentions that creating a profile will automatically include their own work. At the bottom, there is a red 'ENABLE' button and a grey 'Cancel' button. To the right, a search result for 'convex optimization' is shown, with a red arrow pointing to the 'My library' link in the article details.

- Click " My Citations"
